

Website Privacy Notice:

Information we collect on our website:

The Mobile Public Library will not sell, exchange, or otherwise distribute information collected on our website (www.mobilepubliclibrary.org) except where required or authorized by law. We collect and store information on visitors to different areas of our website to help us analyze the use and performance of our website. This information is automatically transmitted by an internet browser. We collect:

- the IP address of the user's computer or internet provider;
- the type of browser and operating system used to access our site;
- geographic location from which a user is accessing our site;
- the date and time a user visited our site;
- the Internet address of the website that referred a user to our site.

Individual visits are not linked to any personally identifiable information without your consent. We request personally identifiable information such as, names, email addresses, postal addresses and/or telephone numbers, when you use the voluntary contact forms on our website to make inquiries, provide registration information, register for a temporary online library card, participate in a contest, etc. When information is submitted on one of our voluntary contact forms it will be reported to us along with the IP address of the user's computer or internet provider and the type of browser and operating system used to access our site. This is to protect against malicious use of our contact forms. Use of our voluntary contact forms is considered consent to collect this information.

Photos and videos that appear on our website may be gathered from public programs, events, and library spaces. Images are not identified using full names or personal identifying information without written approval from the photographed subject, parent, or legal guardian.

Third-Party Services:

We often use third-party Library service providers and technologies to help deliver some of our services to you, including our cataloging services, online services such as databases, digital classes, digital collections, streaming media content, etc. For more information on these services and the types of data that are collected and shared, refer to the Terms of Use and Privacy Policies on their webpages. You may choose not to use these third-party services if you do not accept their terms of use and privacy policies.

Our website also suggests links to external websites that are not under contract or our direct control. Please refer to the privacy policy on these sites for more information. The Library cannot be responsible for your privacy when you disclose information to outside websites.

E-newsletter Service:

The Mobile Public Library uses the LibraryAware Service to provide emails about library collections, services, and programs. You may receive emails powered by LibraryAware if you signed up for them on our website, or if you gave your email address when registering for a library card. You may update your information or unsubscribe from this email service at any time, by selecting the 'Manage Subscriptions or Unsubscribe' link on the bottom of any email.
